LazerGazer, the alias of Damascus-born, Amsterdam-based artist Hala Namer, has been steadily carving out a place for herself in the underground club scene and beyond. As the former programmer of Kanaal40 and a current resident at Garage Noord, she has become a key figure in Amsterdam's dynamic nightlife, playing an active role in shaping the city's musical landscape and supporting numerous local initiatives.

Known for her distinct blend of contemporary club music, LazerGazer effortlessly merges a wide range of sounds, oscillating between bass, percussion, breaks, electro, and countless other subgenres. Her ability to experiment with these influences, while maintaining a unique sense of flow, defines her approach. Through her adaptability and dynamic, eclectic selections, she brings an unpredictable yet cohesive energy to her sets, creating immersive soundscapes that resonate with both niche audiences and broader crowds alike.

Gaining momentum in recent years, she has performed at revered institutions like De School, Ankali, Left Bank, Horst Arts & Music Festival, and Lente Kabinet, solidifying her as a rising force in the European electronic music scene.
