biography

HVOB have been conquering the world of electronic music for several years now. Within the last years, HVOB have not only established themselves within the international music scene by way of their releases, but also as a live-act. The act strictly plays live.

They play sold-out tours in North, Middle and South America, Asia, Europe and South Africa and have played all the world's renowned festivals - from headlining Sonar Barcelona to Clockenflap in Hong Kong, Burning Man, Primavera or Fuji Rock in Japan. They have also recorded a BBC Essential Mix, several Boiler Rooms and a Cercle set in Mexico.

The two musicians behind HVOB are Anna Müller and Paul Wallner. Anna Müller composes, produces and also provides the captivating, hypnotic vocals. Final production of the tracks is done in collaboration with Paul Wallner in his Vienna studio. Together they are responsible for creating the unique sound of HVOB.

Following four studio albums and one live album, HVOB released their sixth album in 2022: TOO is an angry, tender, vulnerable, determined account of a generation's search for life. The album explores extremes in concept, content and sound.
