biography

Tai Lokun is a London-based DJ known for her high-energy, groove-driven sets that move fluidly between classic house, driving techno, breaks, and percussive rhythms. With an instinct for reading the room and a sound rooted in the deeper corners of club culture, she has built a reputation for sets that are both powerful and unpredictable.

A regular on some of the most respected dancefloors in Europe, Tai has played at Glastonbury's Silver Hayes and Block9, Draaimolen, Dekmantel Selectors, Horst, and Gala, alongside appearances at iconic clubs including Panorama Bar in Berlin, Fabric in London and RAUM in Amsterdam. Her international bookings have also taken her to New York, Tokyo, Bali, and Singapore, steadily expanding her global footprint.

Alongside the club circuit, Tai is a familiar presence across independent radio. She previously held a residency on Rinse FM and has delivered guest mixes for NTS, The Lot Radio, and Refuge Worldwide - platforms where she digs deeper into the sounds and influences that shape her sets.

In 2023, she launched District Unknown, an event series focused on championing emerging artists and stripping club nights back to what matters most: the music. Built around carefully curated lineups and an open-minded dancefloor, the project reflects Tai's commitment to pushing forward-thinking club culture and creating space for new voices.
